Yellow warning
Snow & Ice

Between 16:00 Sun 11 Dec 2022 and
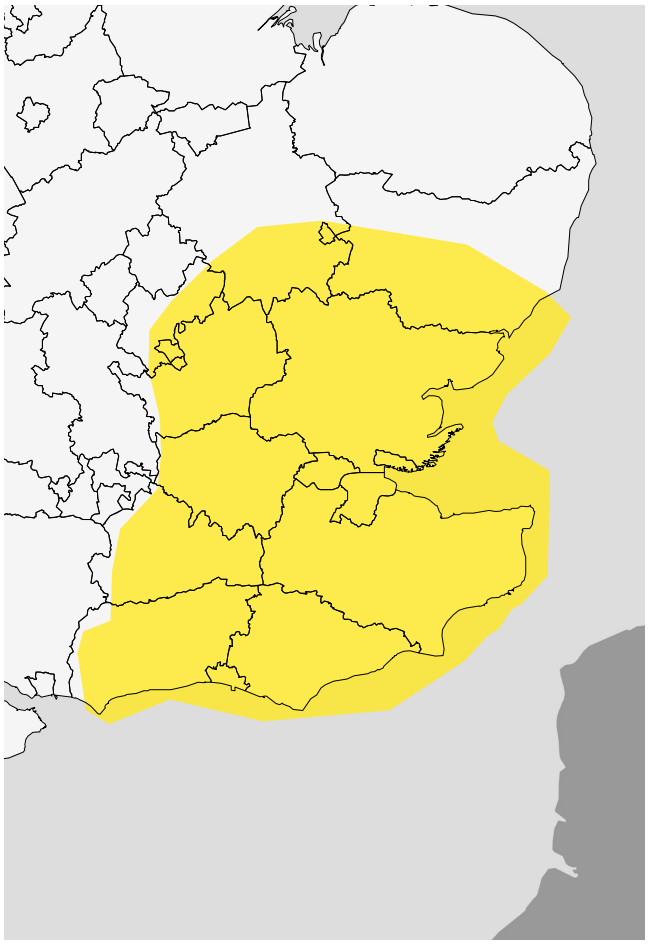
09:00 Mon 12 Dec 2022



Snow will bring some disruption to travel on Sunday night and Monday morning.

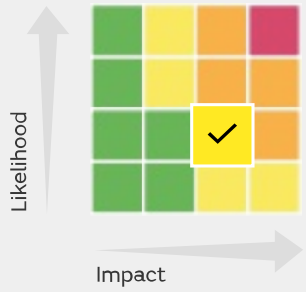
What to expect

- Possible travel delays on roads with some stranded vehicles and passengers, along with delayed or cancelled rail and air travel
- Some rural communities could become temporarily cut off
- There is a small chance that power cuts will occur and other services, such as mobile phone coverage, may be affected
- A chance of injuries from slips and falls on icy surfaces
- A chance that untreated pavements and cycle paths become impassable

Further details

An area of rain, sleet and snow will continue to affect southeast England and East Anglia through Sunday evening into early Monday morning before easing. Accumulations of 2-5 cm, perhaps up to 10 cm in places are expected. The area most likely to see both accumulating snow and the higher amounts is across the eastern half of the warning area including East Sussex, Kent, Essex and Hertfordshire.

In addition, ice is likely to form on untreated surfaces, mainly nearer to coasts where rain or sleet is more likely.



✓ Low likelihood of medium impacts
